

FARM MANAGEMENT GRANTS

GRANTS OF UP TO $2,500 AVAILABLE TO QUEENSLAND FARMERS

APPLICATIONS CLOSE 30 JUN-19

Farm Management Grants are available to assist eligible Queensland primary producers or their relatives offset the costs of professional advice associated with succession planning.

Costs eligible for the rebate include those for professional advice provided by suitably qualified professionals including, for example, accountants, succession advisors or solicitors.

Rebates of up to 50 per cent of the amount paid for professional advice, to a maximum of $2,500 for each financial year of the scheme, are available. To receive a rebate for a financial year, an application must be received in that year and may include an application made before professional advice is received.

ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible for a Farm Management Grant, you must:

- Be a primary producer, or a relative of the primary producer for a primary production enterprise
- Have paid or will pay for advice relating to transferring or acquiring an interest in the primary production enterprise from a suitably qualified professional, at or after 23 March 2017

HOW TO APPLY

Grants are available to eligible primary producers, or their children or relatives, to obtain professional advice about transferring an interest in a primary production enterprise owned by the primary producer.

Funding may be available for succession planning so check with Carrick Aland first to see if you are eligible. Phone us on Dalby, Toowoomba or Chinchilla on 07 4669 9800.
